It would have proved fatal had it not been for the immediate call for a physician.

School Bond Issue For New Building, Carries

Lovington was lively Tuesday, owing to the sudden realization of the School Board that the School Bond election was at hand. So much interest was being manifested in the union revival here and the immense crowds that gathered day and night that the election notice was not handed in to be published. Hence on Tuesday, telephones, automobiles and even the print shop was pressed into service for the rush day. Mr. E. H. Price using his car freely to convey persons to the poles who were unaware of the day set. However 65 votes were cast for and not one against the issue for the $6,000 Bonds for the building and furnishing of a new school building. And had it been better known we feel sure the votes would have been the same all for and none against.
